DEATH OF PROMINENT PRIEST

VERY REV. J. J. HOLLEN, RECTOR OF ST. PATRICK'S YORK.

Had Served the Bonneauville Charge this County—Tribute by Bishop Shanahan.

Very Rev. JOHN J. HOLLEN, rector of St. Patrick's Catholic church York, and Chancellor of the Harrisburg diocese, died Tuesday morning of last week in St. Joseph's Hospital, Lancaster, from cancer, with which he had been afflicted for several years. He was 45 years old. Three months ago he relinquished his pastoral duties and went to the Lancaster hospital for treatment, where several operations were performed in the hope of preventing the progress of the disease.

Father Hollen was born in Lykens, Dauphin county, April 15, 1866. He took a classical course at St. Vincent's college, Beatty, Pa., and a course in philosophy and a year in theology at St. Bonaventure's college, Allegany county, N. Y. He finished his preparation at the diocesan seminary, Sylvan Heights, Harrisburg, and was ordained a priest July 12, 1889, at Harrisburg, by Bishop McGovern. He was appointed an assistant pastor of St. Patrick's pro-cathedral in the Capital City, then transferred to Bonneauville, Adams county, and later returned to Harrisburg. In May, 1893, he was transferred to St. Patrick's church, York, as pastor. During his term as pastor he conceived and established St. Rose of Lima congregation for the Catholics of the West End. Father Hollen was one of the most prominent clergymen in the Harrisburg diocese and occupied close relationship with Bishop Shanahan and other high officers of the church. He filled numerous offices during his life as a clergyman, and at the time of his death was Chancellor of the Harrisburg diocese and one of the Bishop's closest counselors. Father Hollen also was a member of many of the principal diocesan committees. He was beloved by all who knew him and held the sincere confidence of all the members of his congregation, as well as the many friends he had outside of the church. The body was taken to York and reposed in state in St. Patrick's church Thursday evening between 5 and 10 o'clock. The funeral was held Friday morning and was attended by at least a half hundred fellow clergymen, among others from this county, Rev. Fathers G. Kohl and J. J. Smith of Conowingo; A. Reutter and W. Whalen of McSherrystown; T. Dougherty of Gettysburg; H. Loague of Littlestown and J. Conihan of Fairfield. Following the absolution of the body, Bishop John W. Shanahan of the diocese of Harrisburg, head of the Catholic church in this district, paid a loving tribute to his friend and co-worker when he said that before his death Father Hollen made an earnest request that no sermon be preached at his funeral, but the bishop added, "But for this request a worthy eulogy would be offered, but I shall have to obey his wishes and consequently can only offer sympathy to the family, the parishioners, the clergy of the diocese and the people of York. His parishioners have lost a kind pastor; the clergy a devoted friend and the people of York a loyal and public spirited citizen. He loved the people of York. He was proud of York and its interests. I leave it to you to keep his memory green. Let us pray for him."

REV. FATHER DENNIS on Saturday, Feb. 17, at St. Boniface church, Williamsport, Pa., was found dead in his room, after saying mass. He was aged 68 years. Father Dennis was formerly of the Harrisburg diocese, and in recent years was located at Conowingo Chapel and at McSherrystown. He came from Alabama.

Why He Does It.
"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said L. M. Buehler to a compiler who dropped into his store, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis."

"The Dr. Howard Company in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes me to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half-price, 25 cents, and, although I have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

"I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific that they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money."

ROOSEVELT TO BE HERE.
Here on May 30th.

The Reading railroad has invited the engineers to be their guests on a trip to Gettysburg on May 30, and the G. A. R. Post of this place had given consent to the Brotherhood to name the orator. Col. Is U. S. Camp Wanted?
The inspection of camps for a site for the Maneuver camp for the U. S. Regulars and Militia this summer has begun. Capt. B. H. Wells inspected the Mt. Gettys site last Friday. The time is at hand for this community to decide whether it wants this camp again and then to organize to get it if possible. The advantages of Gettysburg as a camp site are equal if not superior to any that may be offered. The camp of 1910 was pronounced by those in authority to have been one of the best ever held, in health of the soldiers, in sanitation, in variety of maneuvers, in location and access and in small amount of damages paid. The camp of 1910 is said by many of our people to have left more money here than anything that ever struck the place. But these camps are not to be obtained by a do nothing policy, or by those who reap the benefit encouraging others to give up their time and pay their expenses in the work of getting them, excusing themselves because of their business and the same excuse as fittingly, or more so, applying to those upon whom the work falls, and these camps do not come by making contributions to bring them, a tooth pulling job. Those who profit by these gatherings should do the work either of going after the camp themselves, or freely and voluntarily putting up the wherewithal that will be needed by those who are willing to do the work.

ARENDSVILLE INSTITUTE

ARRANGED BY STATE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Planting and Management of Orchards Discussed—Diseases of Fruit Trees, Etc.

The Arendtsville Farmers' Institute opened Friday afternoon with Pres. A. I. Weidner in the chair. Prayer by Rev. T. C. Hesson; address of welcome by Rev. D. T. Koser, welcoming institute workers and visitors, and thought that more interest ought to be taken in those meetings. Response by L. W. Arney, thanking the speaker for the welcome given and that they would try and make their coming here a benefit to all and requested any one having a question to ask it at any time, even while they were speaking.

The first topic for the afternoon was "Planting a Young Orchard," by D. E. Murray. He said in planting trees we should plant with the intention of receiving a profit and whether we plant 50 trees or 500 we should be careful in selecting the place for the orchard. Soil and air drainage is necessary, and low ground will freeze sooner than on high ground. Then select the varieties we want, such as are adapted to our soil and climate. Peach trees should be raised from seed from Tennessee and budded from trees of known and bearing habits. Trees should be received anywhere from the 25th of March to 25th of April and should not have more than 2-4 in. roots cut to 6 and 8 inches and planted 2 or 3 inches deeper than when in the nursery. He urged careful planting and where planted mulch and by all means cut back to whip, 15 to 18 inches long; trees should be cultivated 2 or 3 times a week until month of July, then put a cover crop in ground, cut back second and third year. Apple orchard after coming into bearing should be in soil; 3 yrs out of 5 spraying with lime and sulphur from April 10 to May 25, three times the trunk of trees and you will not have May borers in trees.

"The Management of Home Orchard," was the subject of talk by L. W. Arney. The orchard should be thoroughly cultivated to take and hold the water given during the winter by rain and snow. He advocated thorough pruning to give air and sunshine so as to give color to fruit. Plenty of manure and sowing crimson clover for good of fruit. Fruit should be thinned so that no two apples hang together and should be six inches apart. "Methods of Raising Hay," by Prof. Franklin Menges was then taken up. Hay, he says, is the most profitable crop grown in Pennsylvania. The soil is as good for hay as fruit. The first thing is to get a good start. He thinks that clover should not be sown on frozen ground; he advocated the sowing of alfalfa, showing what could be done by sowing in August, having the ground well cultivated, sowing 24 lbs. to the acre, getting as high as three tons to the acre. He said that if the ground is thoroughly cultivated and good seed sown you are sure of a crop even without rain.

Friday evening institute opened with a solo by Edwin Rice. Miss Phillips Thomas discussed the topic of "Domestic Economy." The happiness and health of the household depends a great deal on the way the cooking is done. Fruits and all vegetables should be cooked slowly and thoroughly to insure digestion. She gave different methods of cooking beans, cabbage, eggs, etc. By the permission of chair she said she would give demonstrations with the fireless cooker. Music, organ, violin and solo. Recitation, "The Saloon," A. M. Heiges.

Prof. Menges made an address on the subject, "The Necessity of Education for the Farmer," saying that the United States leads the world in industries, agriculture, and minerals; that Germany and many other nations have arrived at their limit of production and that the United States by the education of the farmer could feed the world. That the great mistake is that we educate men for other professions first and leave the farmer neglected while the farm feeds the world. The time has come when he must be educated. The lecture was lengthy, good and well taken.

Institute opened Saturday morning with President in the chair. The first topic was "Some Diseases which attack Our Fruit Trees and How to Control Them," by D. E. Murray. First we must know the effect of the different diseases. Potato blight generally occurs immediately after rain. In order to overcome this spray before rain. Fire blight on trees; cut, gather and burn them. Color blight caused by banking up trees. For peach blight spraying trees when dormant.

"Wheat Raising to Increase Yields" by Prof. Franklin Menges. He claims that there is more fertility in soil in September and part of October if soil is treated right therefore the wheat crop is a desirable crop. We could live on two pounds of wheat per day. No wheat should be exported but flour only so that we could return the fertility of our soil.

At the afternoon session "Industrial Alcohol in Agriculture" was discussed by Prof. Franklin Menges. He gave the different percentages of alcohol from potatoes, corn, etc. Potatoes 12 per cent., corn 60 per cent. He said that alcohol is now made out of sawdust and gave a great deal of information in regard to uses of alcohol. "Pruning and Spraying" by D. E. Murray. He said that in five States the loss from codling moth alone was $200,000; he also said that less than 4 per cent. of insects in orchard and garden are pests.

The institute was called to order on Saturday evening by Pres. A. I. Weidner. The topic, "Nature's Story in Leaf and Flower," by D. E. Murray was very interesting and instructive and was enjoyed by all present. The following committee was appointed to meet with County Superintendent and other committees over the county to organize Boys' Corn Growing Association: Arthur Roberts, Harry Keller, Arthur Grist, Hiram Lady, Jacob Garretson, George Oyer. "Gleanings from Other Countries" was taken up by Miss Sara Phillips Thomas, giving history, customs and costumes of Ireland, Norway, Sweden and Russia. The attendance and interest of the institute were good from beginning to end.

THE McSHERRYSTOWN RALLY

Brought Together One Hundred of the School Teachers of County.

The McSherrystown School Rally, held on Saturday, Feb. 10, proved to be a great success. Over a hundred teachers of the county attended and enthusiasm abounded.

On the arrival of the teachers in McSherrystown at about 10 a. m., they were taken to the public school building, corner Fourth and South streets, where the Primary-Intermediate and Rural Sections held separate sessions. These meetings were called about 10 o'clock. The primary and intermediate section met in the first floor room. The opening subject, "Should Pupils Do Much Work on the Blackboard?" was discussed by Dr. Becht of Harrisburg, Hiram C. Lady and Miss Mary C. Smith. "Conducting the Recitation" was discussed by Miss Martha W. Witherow, and also by Dr. Becht and H. A. Haas of Hanover, a teacher in the Penn township schools. Miss Clara Vinton spoke on the third subject, "Name Some Excellent Seat Work Drills."

The rural section met on the second floor. At this session Dr. Weber was the chief speaker. "The School and the Community" was discussed by Mervin Wintrobe; and Miss A. Irene Kinne man spoke on "The Primary Object of the School."

After these sessions had adjourned, the teachers and guests were conducted to St. Mary's Hall, where a dinner was served by the McSherrystown teachers, with the assistance of a corps of young ladies.

The afternoon session was held in St. Mary's Parish Hall, on North St., beginning at 1 o'clock. To this meeting the public had been invited, and when Rev. L. Aug. Reudter rose to deliver the address of welcome, the auditorium and balcony were filled to their capacity. The address of welcome was as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen:—It is with a great deal of pleasure that I appear before you to welcome to our town, you the public school teachers of Adams county. Perhaps no one can appreciate better the good you are doing for the uplifting of the country than the Catholic priest. No one surely realizes more fully the amount of persistent labor and sacrifice that must be continually endured by you, if you would be successful in your vocation.

Unfortunately the profession of school teaching has not been sufficiently appreciated by the majority of the citizens of our beloved country, but let me tell you that it is the noblest calling next to that of the clergy and one which involves great responsibility, for upon the successful education of youth depends the future welfare of not only the smaller village, but of the county and state and even the country at large. The children now under your care will, sooner or later, have to do battle for existence and take their respective places among the citizens of our grand republic; sooner or later, they will be the men and women in whose hands will rest the weal or woe of their different spheres of action.

Very much depends upon you, therefore, whether we shall have good citizens or not. Allow me to remind you that the imparting of the knowledge which the various classes under your care demand, is not your only duty—most emphatically not. The teacher, true to his or her calling, will develop the character of the children—bring out that which is commendable and eliminate that which is obnoxious. If you accomplish this then, the school-room will be no longer the motto for a humdrum task, but rather that of the noblest duty well performed.

Ladies and Gentlemen, with these few words of encomium upon your grand profession, I shall conclude by again bidding you a hearty welcome. The response was made by Prof. W. A. Burgoon, principal of the Gettysburg public schools, who, on behalf of the assembly, thanked Father Reudter for his gracious words of welcome.

Superintendent Roth introduced Dr. S. E. Weber, Dean of State College, who delivered an interesting address on "Educational Aims and Ends." Comparing the work of a biologist to the work of teaching, he stated there were four things to consider:

First—Referring to the work of the Frenchman Seguin with the unfortunate of the world, he said he favored medical and surgical inspection of the physical condition of pupils.

Second—Best environment, as is being shown in the selection of good locations and erection of good buildings.

Third—Best use of conditions, the duty of everyone being to learn to love environments.

Fourth—Variety to prevent deterioration. New influences are needed.

He was followed by Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the New York State Board of Education, who spoke on "Live Teachers and Live Teaching." He paid a tribute to the late Edward Everett Hale, the dominant figure of whose life was to lend the helping hand. The speaker referred to two false views entertained of Education. The first was the excuse given by parents, who consider education a means to give the child an easier life. The other was the old saying, "What was good enough for me is good enough for my children." Parents forget that things change in 20 to 30 years and a larger preparation is required of several illustrations to prove how opportunities are neglected. In closing he said the duty of teachers, directors, etc., was to point out the way and lend a helping hand.

Pupils of the McSherrystown schools then gave a playlet in two scenes, with a tableau, entitled "The Battle of the Books." The young people taking part acquitted themselves with merit and their efforts were rewarded with hearty applause.

Between the subjects, pupils of the Conowago township schools, under direction of Harry E. Bair, of Mt. Pleasant, sang choruses and instrumental music was furnished by the McSherrystown Orchestra.

On motion, by a rising vote, the teachers thanked the McSherrystown teachers and assistants for their courteous treatment; Father Reudter for the use of St. Mary's Hall; school directors, teachers and all others for their attendance and assistance in making the meeting successful; McSherrystown Orchestra for furnishing music; pupils of Conowago township for leading the singing; and all others who, in any way, helped to make the rally one of the most successful ever held by the teachers of Adams county.

Luxury.

When homeward from his busy day the toiler travels far He'll simply push a button when he wants to stop the car; The man will pull a lever and the door will open wide, And gently jolt him down the step into the street outside.

A button he will press to start the elevator's flight; Another button floods the room with soft electric light, And then to cheer the weariness that comes at close of day He throws a switch and turns a crank and lets the music play.

Oh, what's the good of hands and feet and what's the good of brain, When with such little effort men such ample service gain? What call is there to strive and wait and theorize and guess, When all you need is to decide which which button you will press?

A WAY OPEN.

Many a Gettysburg Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Gettysburg people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof of the like of which has never been produced before in Gettysburg. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. C. W. Culp, 423 E. Washington St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have still greater faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today than when I publicly recommended them two years ago. I found them to be an excellent kidney medicine. A member of my family had kidney trouble, as the result of an attack of the measles. Backache caused much suffering and there were pains in the side which made lifting an impossibility. The kidney secretions were also unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured at the People's Drug Store and their use was followed by great relief. I advise anyone afflicted with kidney complaint to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its errors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a hollow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 19 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

Is Woodrow Wilson The Modern Jefferson?

His Campaign Has Become the Storm Center of Democratic Presidential Politics.

Many of the Attacks on Him Have Involved Betrayals of Confidence.

ONE OF A SERIES OF ARTICLES ON THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

THROUGH all the clouds of controversy that have arisen about the candidacy of Governor Woodrow Wilson for the presidency certain facts are apparent. That Governor Wilson is not a politician and has not learned the art of caution in expression that marks those who have been longer in the game. That he is a most formidable candidate for the nomination, else these attacks would not be made upon him. That the attacks come mostly from those close to Wall street and the "interests."

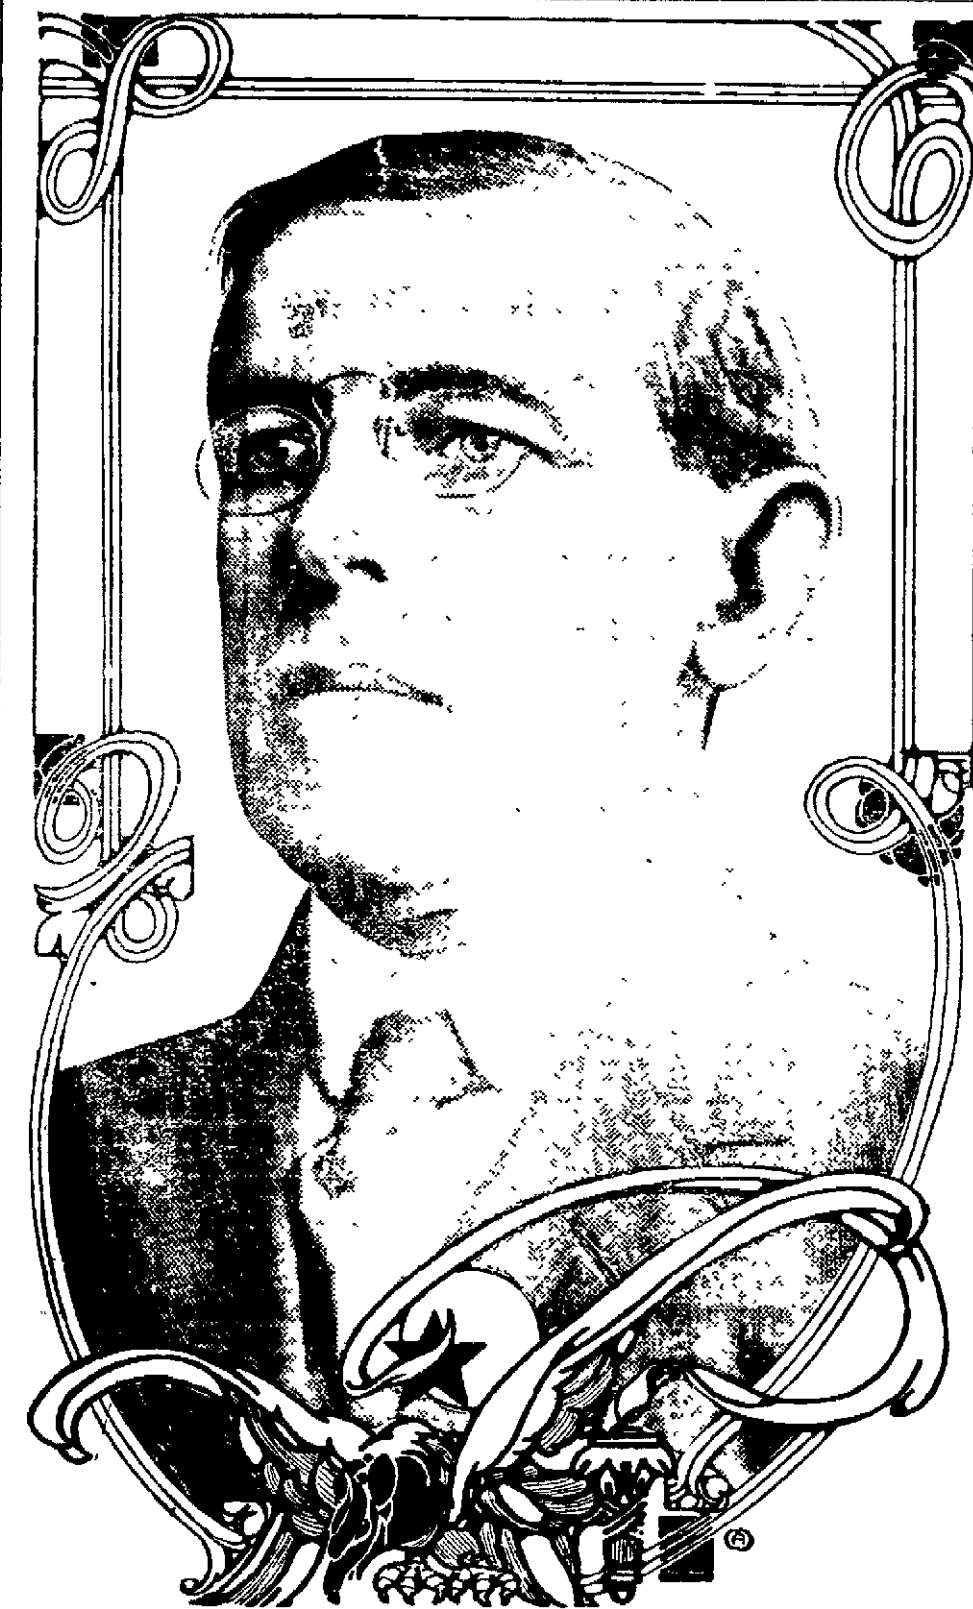

That each of the assaults—the divulging of the Carnegie pension episode, the publication of the Bryan "cocked hat" letter and the story of tation for the uncertainties of politics. Why should he not seek to protect his family?

Mountain Beside Molehills.

You see, when one gets past all the bellowing about these incidents and calmly analyzes them there is not so much to them after all. But the fact that the New Jersey governor is the most progressive of the Democratic candidates grows bigger the more it is considered. Compared to these other things it is a mountain beside molehills.

Lincoln once said that it was easy to pick out the best apple free because it had the most clabs and stones underneath. So it is not difficult to determine the foremost candidate. He is the Harvey Wilson break—involved a betrayal of confidence.

That one big fact standing out of all the muck is that Governor Wilson would not accept the money of Thomas F. Ryan.

Moreover, there is a possibility that because of the source, the bitterness and the methods of these assaults, coupled with Governor Wilson's silent endurance of them, they may cause a revulsion of public sympathy in his favor. It is also possible that his foes shot their big guns too soon. Their ammunition is now gone, and the convention is still months away.

Clearing the ground of nonessentials and trivialities, the really big things remain as before. The foremost fact regarding the Wilson candidacy is that he is the most progressive of the Democratic candidates. This being so, he could probably poll the largest progressive Republican vote. Here is the one essential factor that in the end will probably outweigh all the minor considerations. None of these affairs over which such a tumult has been created is supremely important in itself.

What if Governor Wilson did say five years ago that Colonel Bryan should be knocked into a "cocked hat"? Bryan apparently does not resent it. Why should any one else?

What if he did tell Colonel George Harvey that the advocacy of Harper's Weekly was hurting his candidacy? Harvey asked him, didn't he? And Wilson told him the truth.

What if he did apply for a teacher's pension? He was abandoning his vo-the man against whom the abuse leveled. Even the chap about whom the most hubbub is raised and yet can back him as being very close to a winner. At least the others think he is dangerously near or they would not try so hard to scare him off. They do not bother with those who have no chance.

Level headed people are not too much disturbed by abuse in a political campaign. They regard it as a part of the game and discount it accordingly. Every political winner from George Washington down has been subjected to attacks. Among the most denounced men in the country's history were Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant, Cleveland and Roosevelt. Who does not recall the fierce assaults on the public and private life of Grover Cleveland? Why? Because he was really a vital and dominant figure, a winner, hence an issue. A political campaign is something like a military campaign. Both involve strategy and hard fighting.

"You see that fellow Wilson over there? Well, center your fire on him. Try this Carnegie pension gun." Boom! "Ah, that threw some dirt over him! Now try this cocked hat mortar." Bang! "Pretty work. That made him jump. Try plunging him with this Harveyized steel cannon and this Waterson smoothbore." Bing! Bam! "That jolted him. Keep it up." Etc., etc.

You see, it is all in the game. Only excitable and timid people get excited about it. "Oh, my! Did you see what Colonel Waterson said about Governor Wilson this morning?" or "Have you read that awful letter Woodrow Wilson wrote about Mr. Bryan back in eighteen-umpty-six? And the nervous souls get quite fussed up.

All this is to be expected. It raises a dust, furnishes a distraction, but seldom kills anybody. After the thunder of guns is over the issues are pretty much as they were before. When the fireworks are done old Hiram Jones, Sam Perkins and Bill Smith meet down at the grocery, scratch their heads and say: "Well, what about this fellow Wilson? How does he stand on the tariff, and what would he do to the trusts? Do you think he is with the interests or with the plain folks? By ginger, he has grill! He wouldn't take old Ryan's money; nuther would he have the support of that Morgan paper. Plum tickled me what he did to Jim Smith. I tell you when the trusts jump on to a man like they are jumping on to him he is a purty safe feller for us common folks to tie to." So it goes. When Wall street slams it into a man the back counties are apt to begin yelling for him. In this instance the interests should have masked their batteries a little more effectually. People saw who was furnishing the ammunition and directing the fire.

Here's another side of the story: Dr. Wilson had been teaching at Princeton what sounded like safe and sane doctrine. So the S and S leaders said: "There is a man after our own hearts. Let us make him governor of New Jersey and boom him for president. He looks good to us." Then Dr. Wilson became Governor Wilson, got out among the folks, heard what they were talking about, went out west and found how the initiative, referendum and recall were actually working, returned east and saw the way the corporations butted into politics, controlled bosses and used the government for their own private enrichment, after which he overhauled his platform and revised it upward, downward and sideways, much to the chagrin and consternation of the safe and sane gentlemen aforesaid. "Who is this Populist, progressive and radical we have been booming?" they yelled. "Stung! Oh, the ingrate! Let us publish his letters!"

Only Enemies Alienated.

The average, everyday man has no cause to get excited. Wilson has not hurt any friend of his, nor is any friend of his joining in the hubbub against Wilson. Just as well be calm. So far as anybody can see, the only people alienated from the New Jersey governor by these incidents were those who were not for him in the first place. Most of the real Wilson men said he had been strengthened.

So much for the Carnegie pension, the "cocked hat" and "Morse Henry." These bombs have been exploded, and the net result is that the Woodrow Wilson boom for the presidency has been given a vast deal of publicity; also that there is no smell of Wall street anywhere about it. Some people had their doubts before.

One feature of the psychology of Governor Wilson must be realized before an accurate measure of the man and his principles can be taken. Perhaps as clearly as any man now prominent he differentiates between public and private. With his logical mind and his thorough training in political economy he sees the danger of patronage, special privilege and partiality in government. He is not the sort of man who would permit private friendship to stand in the way of public duty. The president of the United States as president should have no friends to reward, no enemies to punish. Favoritism has a brood of evil following after. Any special interest in public affairs smacks of treason.

Woodrow Wilson believes that big business should get out of politics. That is the reason big business is attacking him. He thinks the only legitimate function of a tax is to raise revenue. He is convinced that the system of patronage and favoritism has alienated the government of the republic from the people, and through the initiative, referendum, recall, direct primaries, election reforms, popular election of senators and similar measures he would restore it to them.

When He Beat Jim Smith.

Wilson's position in the Democratic camp is not far different from that of Political Announcement.

FOR NATIONAL DELEGATE.
I hereby announce my candidacy for the honor of representing the Democracy of the 20th Congressional District of Pennsylvania, composed of Adams and York counties as one of the two Delegates to the Democratic National Convention to assemble in Baltimore June 25, 1912. If chosen to represent this district I will do all in my power to have the Hon. Woodrow Wilson nominated for President of the United States.

HARRY E. RIDDLEMOER.

FOR ALTERNATE DELEGATE.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the honor of being one of the alternate delegates from the 20th Congressional District of Pa. to the Democratic National Convention in Baltimore June 25th and I favor the nomination of the Hon. Woodrow Wilson for President of the United States.

CHARLES WILLIAMS.

National Delegate Candidate.

Charles M. Kerr of Wrightsville, York county, has announced himself as a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention to be held in Baltimore in June. Mr. Kerr has long been an admirer of Governor Wilson of New Jersey, and has a brother, the Rev. John T. Kerr, of Elizabethtown, N. J., who was a class mate of Governor Wilson at Princeton.

Following is Mr. Kerr's letter: To the Democracy of the Twentieth Congressional District.

I desire to announce my candidacy for delegate to the Democratic National Convention, which meets in Baltimore June 25th, 1912, to select a candidate for President on the Democratic ticket.

I am a great admirer of Woodrow Wilson and am heartily in accord with the lofty principles of good government for which he stands and, if chosen to represent this district at the coming National Convention, I shall do all in my power to have him nominated for President of the United States.

Thanking all for their influence and support, I am,

Respectfully,

CHARLES M. KERR.

THE ROOSEVELT SPECTACLE.

What a miserable spectacle men make in politics by failing to keep their solemn promises not to run for an office after having had the office two terms.

President Roosevelt's decision on November 8, 1904:

"Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

President Roosevelt's decision on February 25, 1912:

"I will accept the nomination for President if it is tendered me."

The New York "Sun" comments: "If he should fail to wrest from the President that which is Mr. Taft's by every right or reason and every rule of fair play and square dealing, Colonel Roosevelt will be one of the most ridiculous figures upon which posterity can bestow its amused contemplation. If by any unlikely chance he should succeed in his enterprise, it will be at the cost of much that men of honor and magnanimity hold dearer than even office or power. The third term question will become vital and decisive. The question of gratifying indefinitely one man's ambition to rule will produce an alignment of sober patriotic common sense against hysterical personal adulation; and he must despair of the republic's future who can for a moment doubt the issue of that test."

All of which means Democratic success next November.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

With this issue on third page the COMPILER begins a series of articles on the Democratic Presidential Candidates with interesting accounts of their lives. The series starts with Hon. Woodrow Wilson, who is the choice of the Democrats of this county by a large majority and who as a profound student of our government and its institution would assume the presidency with a supreme confidence throughout the nation that a government, of, by and for the people would be the goal toward which he would devote his great energies and ability.

Clay Product Exposition.

From March 7 to 12 there will be held in Chicago, a Clay Products Exposition, which is proving very interesting to our local people engaged in the manufacture of tile and brick. The prospectus among other things says: The contract for 100 miles of brick roadway was recently let in one lump in New York State. Hundreds of miles are built each year in Ohio and other states. Brick roads are free from their own dust, need no repairs, are on the average less noisy, are easy to build and counting upkeep are less expensive than any other road. A model piece of brick paved roadway will be shown at the Exhibition.

The local Council has a considerable fund at interest and it is their aim to establish a weekly sick indemnity. The next three months great efforts will be made to increase the membership to one hundred.

The Royal Arcanum was founded, has prospered and is maintained by the combination of fraternity and business. Men joined together in fraternal union for the accomplishment of a great business purpose. Like national liberty and union, fraternity and business are inseparable. They are inter-dependent.

You may be eligible now; in another month or year, or even in one week, you may not be insurable. Who can tell? To know particulars confer with the one who has been secretary for 13 yrs.

Is Woodrow Wilson the Modern Jefferson?

Senator La Follette in the Republican camp. Perhaps the strongest thing about him is the one for which he has been most criticized—viz, that he will not permit private friendship or even what is called private gratitude to swerve him one hair's breadth in his action as a public official. When James Smith, Jr., came out as a candidate for United States senator in face of the fact that the Democrats had declared for James E. Martine in a state primary Governor Wilson forced the election of Martine, although Smith had supported Wilson's nomination. That action exemplifies the distinction of public from private. Wilson the man owed a debt of gratitude to Mr. Smith, but Wilson the governor and leader of his party owed his duty alone to the public. That action required courage, just as telling the truth to Colonel George Harvey required courage.

Governor Wilson has put through a direct primary law in New Jersey, a commission government act for cities and many other reforms. He has a clear vision of what the new conditions mean. He is a historian, a scholar, an orator and an incorruptible public official. He has shown the power of self restraint in trying places. As president of Princeton university he stood for democracy as against aristocracy in college life. He holds the same attitude today, only that his sympathy with the people has been quickened by contact with the people.

After the hue and cry are done it may be that the American people will see Woodrow Wilson as the Thomas Jefferson of this era.
